Boy scout uniform insignia placement

Updated to include Facebook's Twitter Lion Rank patch, this ultimate guide to cub scout patch placement will show you exactly where the patch is going. A simple diagram will help you put all these badges in the right place. The placement of cub scout patches can be very confusing, especially for the new Cub Scout family. In this article, we're taking up basic Cub Scout patches and badges so you can prepare your kids' uniforms for your first Cub Scout meeting! Check out the easiest way to sew a Cub Scout patch! If you prefer to watch videos, keep scrolling! If you're not a fitting, consider using badge magic! Start with the left sleeve. Your council shoulder emblem goes to the top along the shoulder seams. Position 1 is shown in the image above. Just below the council shoulder emblem in position 2a, a small veteran unit emblem is worn when used. It is for units (packed in our case) chartered for at least 25 years. The emblem number represents the number of years the unit has been chartered. Don't you think it would be great to be in a chartered unit 50 or 60 years ago? Our pack number is 3 digits, but your number may be more or less than that. A little hint if you are sewing. First sew the numbers together, then sew the connected numbers into the uniform. Much easier than sewing each number on your shirt individually! When you buy a uniform, the flag is already sewn. If your uniform is used, the flag may have been removed, but you can buy another one from your council. Directly below the American flag at position 2 is your den number. In our pack, the Thai Garden is given a number when it is formed and that number remains the same for that group of Cub Scouts. For example, when my son was a Tiger, his den was numbered Den 3. He was still in Den 3 when he became Webelos. If you leave the den number the same every year, you don't need to replace the patch. Your pack's recently earned Journey to Excellence (JTE) patch will be worn under the den number on the right sleeve of position 3. The World Crest is worn over the left pocket. It is centered on the seams of the left shoulder and the left pocket. This means that Scout Scouts in the United States are part of the scout movement's world organization. Rank badges enter the left pocket as shown in the image above. They are placed in this order: Lion Badges – Bobcat Badges Below Other Ranks – 12:00 Position Tiger Badges – 6:00 Position Wolf Badges – 9:00 Position Bear Badges – 3:00 Position Lions, our newest Cub Scout ranks wear T-shirts instead of blue Cub Scout uniform shirts. Kindergarteners can wear lion patches when they meet all the requirements of the rankT-shirt heart. When the Lions go up to the Tigers, they put a lion patch just below where the Tiger Badge goes. Religious knots showing Cub Scouts are worn over the left pocket, which has earned religious emblems for their religion. The Right Pocket Cub Scout Patch Placement Cub Scout Outdoor Activity Awards Patch is worn on the right pocket flap. Pins earned at the Summertime Pack Awards are pinned to the Outdoor Activity Awards patch. If your scout earns a patch of recruiter, it will be worn right under the right pocket. Temporary patches can be worn in the right pocket. This includes patches earned to participate in activities and complete achievements. Above, a day camp patch of Cub Scouts. Only one temporary patch can be attached to the pocket. Some other examples of temporary patches are: Nova Temporary Patch Camp Temporary Patch Cyber Chip Temporary Patch a lot is attached with loops so that you can hang them from the pocket button instead of sewing them. According to page 28 of the Awards and Insignia Guide, the Whiting Chip Badge is not worn on Cub Scout uniforms. Read this article for some ideas on what to do with these temporary Cub Scout patches when you put a new one in your child's uniform. Webelos Uniform Patch Placement Webelos and Wright Arrows wear tanned uniform shirts like boys scouts. When a Scout earns a Webelos rank, he wears a badge sewn into his left pocket. The light arrow rank patch goes directly below the left pocket. This is the only Cub Scout badge that can be worn on a Boys Scout uniform. If you want to watch the video, click below! They need to be sewn with a sewing machine or by hand. I've found this super easy way to sew them by hand. And that's where all the patches go! If you're wondering where the patch is going, it's probably a temporary patch. For help, see the Scout FAQ page can be displayed on the back of a blanket, vest, wall display, shoebox, or merit badge sash. See the BSA Insignia Guide for uniforms, patches, and more. The American Scout program always included uniforms for members and volunteers to identify members and show that they were part of the American Juvenile Scouts. Scouts and leaders are required to wear uniforms for all patrol meetings, troop meetings, and scout outings. Tan and green Scout BSA uniforms are a famous symbol of American scouts. All scouts in the program wear the same uniforms as the badges earned by each Scout and the major differences between the troop-specific Necker Chiefs. Most Scout troops have activity uniforms, often T-shirts dedicated to troops. Activity uniforms are worn for work projects, sports activities, and other events where dress uniforms can be damaged. Official dress uniforms are commonly called Class A uniforms and Class B, even though the BSA terminology is incorrect. The best place to buy a customized Scout T-shirt is .com classB website. ClassB.com is the official licensee of the American Juvenile Scout and is actually run by several Eagle Scouts. Each Scout belongs to a patrol within a troop. To foster the identity of the patrol, each patrol selects a patrol patch and creates patrol flags, names, and yells. The Sash and SuchBSA Insignia Guide describes the use of all uniforms, patch placements, and other insignia. The placement of merit badges on the sash is up to the Scout. Badges can appear on two or three line, starting three inches below the top of the sash. You don't need to order a badge. Scouts can place all eagle mandatory badges surrounded by silver first, followed by a green border selection badge. Alternatively, display them in alphabetical order, favorites, colors, or in the order in which they were earned (the most common). When the front of the sash is full, you can display additional merit badges on the back or on the second or third sash. Merit badge sashes are worn draped over the right shoulder and left hip. Only one sash is worn at a time. The second sash is not worn over the shoulder and is not pushed into the belt. The same is true for the order of the arrows. Scouts wear one of the Merit Badge Sash OR OA Sashes, but not more than one sash at a time. These two sashes show merit badges in three columns. They belong to my two eagle sons. One has all the badges the Eagle needs on top and the other just like the one you've earned. Comment: January 26, 2017 - DCScoutMomQuestion: My son recently passed his review committee and will receive his Eagle Scout Award this weekend. But he has his venture shirt from working at a summer camp in Peaks, Spain. He is now over 18 and his COH was hastily planned very quickly with no time to get a new tanning class A. Is it appropriate for him to wear a green uniform shirt with his merit sash or Paul@DCScoutMom OA sash for his Eagle ceremony? He can wear his venture uniform or borrow a better fit scout uniform from a friend. March 03, 2017 - When is the right time and place for the Lin merit badge to sash? Where can I find the official policy on this? 03 March, 2017 - Scouter Paul@Lynn - Merit badge sashes can be worn every time a uniform is worn, but in most cases it is impractical to wear it because it gets in the way. Honor coats, judging panels and other formal events are when scouts usually wear sashes. Follow the link to the BSA Insignia Guide for the above page content to find the official BSA policy. May 30, 2017 - District Commisch A Scout who is not an American citizen wears his country™ flag on his Boy Scout uniform, and if so, where? I know the American flag has been on the BSA uniform since 70™. Many non-American scouts who are part of a local pack, troop, or crew in Europe pay homage to the flag and national anthem by standing, but some don't salute (but some do). I checked and there is no specific mention of this in any of the BSA guidelines I checked. June 19, 2017 - Favel Connicke My son returns from Camp Geronimo with a whole badge and bag of rings. I don't know what to do with them? for three badges. Camp Geronimo2017. Rainbow Trail and Tender Foot Run. Like the ring, Big G Gold, Brave, Tiger Eye, East Webber, Geronimo Trail Tender Foot run, Turkey Springs and just a symbol (?). One with, maybe a scout on tenderfoot? June 20, 2017 - Scout Paul@Fabel - The best thing to do in your case is to have your scout ask his Scoutmaster where the patch is going. Perhaps there is a patch scheme document from the camp explaining where they are going and you may find it in the camp too!They have one. December 21, 2017 - Where do Paul@Eli Eli firefighters' chits, toin chips and cyber chips wear uniforms? December 26, 2017 - Lisa Do I wear scout uniforms for scout camp interviews? December 27, 2017 - Scouter Paul@Lisa - If you're a registered BSA member, it sounds like a good idea to wear a uniform for an interview. April 11, 2018 - Larry Coxie! I'm 62 years old for Eagle, who returned to scouting to help a troop of two older grandchildren and two young grandchildren still with the Cubs. Silly question, but I don't remember if we were wearing colored tees under our uniforms. I'm almost out of sight. Scan all posts on your site lol, but what do you need, or what works best? And it's great! And I had an excellent leader. Thanks 13, 2018 - Scouter Paul@Larry - You can wear another layer under the shirt in your uniform if you wish. It is not part of the uniform, but it is convenient for outdoor or simply comfort in cool weather. April 17, 2018 - Larry Cox scouter Paul, thank you! terrible as a choice. Without any guidance, boys often tend to go for their brightest neon colors from their dressers, which makes them warmer and more comfortable wearing tees but looking yukky, of course, the easiest The answer is to wear a necker-chief who hides the tee, so hopefully the army will reconsider one day! - 10 May 2018 - Skawi Edhi Everyone, I'm looking for a BSA language that corresponds to footwear. I currently have two brothers in my army who are lazy in my opinion, they refuse to wear shoes to troop meetings, wear white socks with flip-flops, on a night of uniform inspection they wear black socks and black Nike-type shower slippers on flip slopes and cannot participate in troop games or activities as we climb the Lashing Tower. My committee is afraid of kickback Paul@Ed s, so is there a rule to let you wear closed foot shoes next to the troop rules? However, scouts do not have to wear uniforms to become members of the BSA. When adult volunteers start making scouting rules, it tends to go wrong. Their lack of proper footwear will maybe encourage their patrolmates to change if their patrols cause poor performance in contests with other patrols. For example, some simple recognition for patrols with the highest proportion of scouts climbing towers or participating in games - their patrols could not get it without them!There may be some other reason besides the laziness of the reasons they wear. Caring adult volunteers may try to find out why. December 15, 2018 - LLM@ Scout Mom, old-fashioned 02/21/12 - I come to this page to read more about ordering scout uniform pieces and sadly at the top of this thread I'm asked a possible Scout or Mode? I ran into a post from a scout mom questioning the photo. (Rhetorical statement), Scout Mom has written a lengthy post lecting her own parenting and raised in a Dutch household. The other comments I ran don't cover subjects like this and I'm wondering why the admin left this in the thread. I would like to read the comments based on actual inquiries and answers (Q&A). My point is, does this thread have an admin who deletes irrelevant posts? December 16, 2018 - Scouter Paul@LLM - Sometimes comments are just comments, not questions or answers. If someone has a view or comment and it is related to page content and not inflamed, it does no harm. I try to de-line-off topic, nonsensical or inappropriate comments. March 01, 2019 - Xine My daughter is a member of the new Scout BSA corps. I am preparing to finish her uniform and would like to make sure I put the item correctly on the left sleeve. I believe that the arrangement of the images you refer to is nothing more than an interpretation of the artist's center. Some shirt pockets have been flattened, not pointed. Some are billed rather than sewn flat. So the exact vertical center is different with different pocket types. The goal is to center the patch in the available horizontal and vertical space. April 24, 2019 - Ken@Scouter Paul, thanks for the quick response and good information! Now my son, a fourth-generation Scout, will be official Ken@Scouter for his first troop campout this weekend! If the Scout BSA has an official position on the position, they should draw it on all official material. I understand that the pockets have changed, but in this example the Scout BSA specifically shows two different ways to center patches vertically in the same pocket. I make judgment calls so that my son can wear his rank, but scout BSA can't expect accurate results as it follows inaccurate instructions. If you center between the top and bottom of the pocket, the flaps will overlap the rank of the square pocket. The official guides on the insignia and inspection sheets depict the same pockets, but the rank insignia is in different positions, one between the flap tip and the bottom, and one below. I support the notation that scout BSA is spreading conflicting information. Thanks to your work on this question, vertical centering is also not well defined by the rules and literature of the official Scout BSA, so we seem to choose individually what it means. But to be clear, I can't trust the official Scout BSA insignia rules and guidelines and instructions and inspection sheets because it's just an artist's interpretation, so should I get rid of Paul@Ken if? Center the patch as much as possible and I believe it will work. I don't think the BSA cares much that the patch is 1/4 or 1/2 inch away from the center, but if you feel that this lack of specific information is in need of fixing, please contact the BSA at this address. April 25, 2019 - Ken@Scouter Paul, thank you. I hope it didn't sound like unloading on you. You're innocent! I'm frustrated that scout BSA issued regulations for patch placement indicating where to put it and then provided jig inspection sheets for all scouts who followed! will contact them and ask for standardization in the direction. Thanks, @Scouter Paul your website is priceless to me! April 25, 2019 - Ken and just for laughs, Scout BSA needs a service star to be 3/8 inch above your square knot or pocket if you don't have a knot. I would argue that scout BSA is better than 1/4 to 1/2 inch for badge placement, with a level of specificity to one-eighth of what can be done for service stars. I will contact them. October 09, 2019 - JenDo's women's uniform tops need to be tucked in because they are cut at the helm™ remain hidden on October 11. Jane@Jen, 2019 - On October 1, 2013, the official posture to The Boys Scouts of America™ uniform policy is to wear a shirt and blouse, whether the wearer is a Cub Scout, Scout, Sea Scout, Venture, or adult scout. In the past, guidelines simply state that uniform wearers should be neat in appearance. Neat shirts and blouses contain tucks. This update appears when it is revised and printed on related resources, such as unified inspection sheets. BSA Guide to Awards and Insignia: OfficialPolicyw.scouting.org/resources/insignia-guide/BSA uniform shirts always 19, 2019 inblog.scoutingmagazine.org/2013/1/009/tuck-everlasting-scout-uniform-shirts-should-always-be-tacked-in-bsa-says/Oct says you need to tack - Heather Cullen My son is an army bugler. Where does this BIG bugler patch go? - October 19, 2019 - The Scouter Pole 3-inch diameter bugler patch enters the badge of the office spot (also known as Position 3) - see the insignia guide. October 24, 2019 - Mick Epperson maintains a good job scout pole. Gets the grip. Choose a vertical center and let your son go to meetings, outings, and rituals. Scouting is a way to build youth so that they are good sizens and ready to face the world. Don't let them get ready to be in the Russian army. Relax Ken. Headquarters is enough to worry about Bank topsy, gender equality, all tents, shoes and slippers for two adults (really?let them take a 10-mile hike on the Super Rock Trail). October 29, 2019 - Richard Wilson understands it is important to prepare and dress based on weather conditions. However, are there any official BSA rules/guidelines that should not be worn as part of an official uniform after daylight time? October 29, 2019 - Scouter Paul@Richard - No, there are no such rules or guidelines. December 06, 2019 - Is Svitlana V1 a™ specific color for boys scout socks? Last night my son had a judging panel on Tenderfoot but he didn't pass the exam because he wasn't wearing green socks as part of uniform™ A™ A. I am very sorry to him for two big reasons: 1. HeA lot of myself in this step. And being his mother, I say it meant a lot to him. I was excited for him even with the power of belief he had. And reason number 2. I feel horrible because I haven't offered him the right one I should. And understand that I have so many things to do to personal discipline, independent thinking, take care™ and more. Anyway, please educate me at this point. Thanks a lot December 06, 2019 - NavbyoneDec 27, 2019 - Ruth the just attended Eagle Coh for 4 Eagle Scouts in a troop of friends. I was rather shocked by the uniform standards at such a prestigious event. As a former ASM of high standards army and Eagles scout wife and stepmom, I was disappointed to see such a drop in standards. Even the Scoutmaster wore jeans as she satisfied Coh (does it speak volumes? her son was one of those achieving eagle, and at the end of the ceremony she announced that she was stepping down as an SM. I was glad to see the bloa bumped into the new SM and he was at least wearing green trousers. I asked him about necker chiefs, but he said they were now an option and the troops voted not to wear them. Even on class A opportunities. Similarly, for pants, green was optional and jeans were also accepted in Class A. Is this the new BSA standard or the army? Does anyone else think this is a terrible drop in standards? January 05, 2020 - John Richard, here in Florida, shorts are very common all year round. Scouts and green shorts are what 25 of my troops wear in their contents all year. January 05, 2020 - John Roos, my unit has not had a Necker chief in years. As an organization run by scouts, the troops decided a few years ago (before my oldest joined) that they didn't want to have them. And as far as I know, it's fully allowed. In the region (SW Florida), I would say less than half don't have necker chiefs. Jeans from. If it's not scout shorts/pants, at least the green shorts/pants will be close by color. Is it an economic problem? 06 January 2020 - Cole Kiserma's son was just working as a trainer for Winter NYLT. They were given special patches, slides, car chiefs, belt buckles, name tags and epolettes, all of which were mandatory for trainers. My question is whether the epolette, a futuristic silver mesh, is legal since they were issued scouts at the camp. May 13, 2020 - Joe Do you know the insignia/patches required for a Boys Scout uniform shirt? Thank you, JoeMay 13, 2020 - Scouter Paul@Joe - the only necessary insignia is the U.S. flag and BSA strip included in the shirt. Typically, the key items that scouts display are: - Shoulder loops that identify the program (Cubs, Scout BSA, Adventure) - Council Emblem - Unit Numbers@Others can see that the Scout is in Scout BSA Unit 123 of the XYZ Council, as in the Scout's address. September 20, 2020 - Gail Stanford I can't find in writing that the new BSA women's shirt is made in the style of a military shirt and won't be worn. The shirts are short and pushing them in is close to impossible. You can check if that guidance is official. I understand that old uniform shirts are made to be pushed in, but I believe that doesn't apply to new ones. September 22, 2020 - Scouter Paul@Gale - Currently, all BSA publications and uniform inspection sheets require the shirt to be pushed in. Let me know when you can find a BSA source that approves of untac shirts, and I will help spread the word.
